SUMMER SEMINAR

Are you educating your students effectively on what it means to be an architect or designer? Can you identify the qualities they have and encourage the skills they need to continue down the right track? Attend our Summer Seminar for Educators and gain a new perspective on guiding your students' futures. Contact the Center for sign up information.

VISIT MY CLASSROOM

If you would like an architect to engage your students in an hour-long exploration of architecture, contact the Center. You might learn something yourself!

FOR MY STUDENTS

Encourage your students to discover architecture through our rewarding programs: summer architecture camp, one-on-one mentorships, office shadow days, and more!

SUMMER ARCHITECTURE CAMP

Is your organization interested in building a relationship with the Center? Consider partnering with us in our effort to inspire and enrich the Kansas City community's understanding of design and the built environment. Contact the Center for opportunities to collaborate with our summer camp leadership and resource team.

LOOKING FOR VOLUNTEERS?

If you would like an architect to participate in an event or connect with your organization. The Center can help you find a match!

LOOKING FOR MENTORS?

We can help your school or organization's students pair with an architect to be their personal, professional coach throughout the academic year.

SUMMER PROGRAMS

We are looking for volunteers that will lend their unique perspective, insight and encouragement to students or teachers to educate them about architecture and design. These will be events that require pre-planning. Contact the Center & let us know in what capacity you would like to be involved.

IN-CLASSROOM ACTIVITIES

Don't have much time? The Center has short in-classroom presentation & activity templates. With a group of 3-4 architects, you will have the opportunity to inspire young students, many for the first time, to think like an architect, see the world as an architect, and appreciate the importance of good design. Contact us to sign up.

WANT TO MENTOR?

Invest in building a professional relationship with a young adult interested in pursuing a career in architecture. Mentorship is a big commitment, but a deeply rewarding experience. Mentoring involves active communication, possible visits with the student at their school, positive encouragement, and professional direction. Contact the Center for more information.

WANT TO VOLUNTEER?

Not sure how to get involved? Contact the Center with your name, affiliation, and capacity of availability and we will keep you up to date with future opportunities.
